ID GRANTED AND 3 REJECTED

A Very Interesting Session of the City Council

Last Evening—The Employment of

Cheap Foreign Labor Denounced and Home Workers Championed.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Council, held last evening, was a lively and interesting one. The granting of coffee house and ordinary liquor licenses and those to wholesale houses had been made the special order of the evening, and this brought out an enormous lobby, composed of applicants and their bondsmen, who filled all the space outside the bars in both branches and dived over into the corridor and were reserved for the members. There was a large attendance of members, who paid much more attention to the granting of licenses than formerly, and as anticipated turned down the applications from some of the more notorious.

The Second Branch was not called to order until 8 o'clock. President Sweeney presided and the absentees were Messrs.

Hildreth, Jones, McCoy, McKimley, Peterson and Vockler. In motion of Mr. Sweeney the granting of licenses was suspended until the morning. The special order of allowing Mr. Tracy to offer the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by both branches:

ITALIAN LABOR.

WHEREAS, The contractor to whom was granted the license for the digging of the National Gas Company of West Virginia has employed to do that work Italian laborers brought from a distance, although it is publicly stated on reliable authority and has not been denied, that the contract was awarded to said contractor not mainly for the reason that the company desired to have the labor of digging done by home workers, and

WHEREAS, The National Gas Company of West Virginia has been exclusively granted valuable privileges and franchises by this Council as representatives of the people of this city,

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Council that the employment of Italian labor to the exclusion of workmen of this city is a gross wrong, and that the city, county and State Treasury, is wrong and deserving of condemnation.

Resolved, That a committee of six, three members from each branch, be appointed to investigate and report whether it is becoming the policy of this Council to take steps to remedy the evil referred to, and that said committee be instructed to wait on the contractor, Mr. Kimberly, and the officers of the National Gas Company of West Virginia, and to report to the Council on the 15th day of May next, as to whether the arrangement for labor contracting is fair and equitable, and whether our workmen can get the work.

Mr. Joseph Yain, the new member from the Fourth ward elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Robert Crawford, appeared and was sworn in.

A RESOLUTION.

The following petition, signed by fourteen of the ministers of the city and prepared by them at their regular pastors' meeting held Monday afternoon, was presented and read:

WHEREAS, W. A., April 27, 1886.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

The undersigned ministers, citizens of Wheeling, earnestly protest against the selling of licenses to peddle and retail intoxicating liquors within the limits of the city for the current year, and present the following reasons therefor:

It is, in our opinion, a wrong principle to raise a revenue by licensing the vice of the people. While it is true that the issue of licenses a considerable sum of money may be brought into the treasury of the city, when the facts are looked into it is plainly to be seen that the expenses which grow out of the use of intoxicating liquors are not only as great as great to the city and the county in caring for the imbeciles and repairing the twenty-two members who voted to grant the license.

The next break was when the name of Charles Caldwell was called. He was licensed for his place at 1623 Market street with Henry Hanks and W. A. Carter as sureties. President Sweeney sang out, "Isn't this the man indicted by the last grand jury? There was considerable confusion and a considerable time elapsed, until all license was about to be granted. Mr. Gillespie called for the eyes and nose. Mr. Delbrugge said he knew nothing against the man and would not vote against him. Mr. Del-brugge said he had no objection to the papers closely; neither does Mr. Gruse, who said the same thing, and Mr. Harrell, who was about to say the same thing,

when Mr. Sweeney in a spirited manner said that he had no objection to the
